New in September!

As we move into the fall season, we are going to see a lot of new things in the area. Squirrels will be getting ready for winter, birds will be in abundance, the leaves will change colour and fall to the ground, and the weather will get cooler.

This is a great time for nature experiences such as collecting and drying leaves, observing animals, observing changes in the environment, and learning about hibernation. (It's never too early to start learning about animals!)

These experiences help our children understand concepts related to time. (4.6)
