Did you know..

Play is how children make sense of the world and is an effective method of learning for young children.

The imitating and exploring play of children evolve into symbolic thinking and the capacity for pretend or imaginative play. As children engage in play they are learning to get along with each other, make compromises, resolve conflicts, regulate emotions and behaviour and imitate friendships.

IDEAS TO DO AT HOME

- Go for a walk, observe and talk about the change in season. Look for pinecones, acorns and changing trees.
- Visit a nearby park. Collect red, yellow and brown leaves. Count them or sort them by colour.
- Visit a local orchard , pick fresh fruit and taste test different varieties.
